TAU BACKGROUND

THE TAU

The alien race known as the Tau inhabit an area of space near the eastern fringe of the galaxy and are a young, dynamic race, with highly advanced weaponry and technology. Though less than two thousand years old, their fledgling empire is rapidly expanding into space and encountering all the elder races of the galaxy. In galactic terms their empire is small, based around a densely packed globular cluster of stars, which enables the Tau to travel between them without many of the dangers normally associated with warp travel. The Tau empire also encompasses several alien races who have been subsumed into the empire voluntarily or whose services are bought through trade agreements.

Tau civilisation is based around a rigid system of castes, each relating to the four elements of nature - fire, water, air and earth - which dictate a Tau's particular role within their society, be it warrior, bureaucrat, pilot or worker. Their rulers form a mysterious fifth caste, translated as the Ethereals, who bind the other castes together. The Tau empire is underpinned by the concept that it is only right and noble for the individual to set their own desires aside to work together for the greater good of the empire. Overall, they're good at it too.

Unlike most alien races which Humanity has encountered, the Tau are not overtly hostile, though they will fight fiercely to protect those territories they have claimed as their own. The sheer dynamism of the Tau is pushing them further into occupied areas of the galaxy and this has inevitably brought them into conflict with both Humans and other alien races. Tau space borders on many Ork-held systems and several Imperial sectors. Craftworlds have passed through their space and the first tendrils of the Tyranid Hive Fleets are approaching. The ongoing expansion of the Tau empire ensures that they are frequently encroaching into other races' territories and border disputes are quick to flare up on the frontiers.

The Tau way of war is efficient and deadly, combining the hitech wargear and weapons of the Tau with the aggression and close combat prowess of their mercenary allies, the Kroot. The Tau dislike close combat, preferring to destroy their enemies at long range with hi-tech weaponry as they are neither particularly strong or tough. When the fighting is likely to get close and bloody, the tau can call upon allies in the shape of Kroot. the Kroot are ferocious carnivores employed as mercenaries and are capable of holding their own against most opponents. A Tau commander recognises the skills and abilities of all those under his command and uses them to fearsome effect.

THE TAU MILITARY

Tau society is sperated into five castes: fire, earth, air, water and the mysterious ethereal caste. The fire caste (Shas) are the fighting arm of the empire, providing soldiers and vehicle crews for the military. The earth caste (Fio) are workers and engineers, the aire caste (Kor) are responsible for crewin and operating all aircraft and flyers and the water caste (Por) is the caste of the diplomates, judges and politicians. The Ethereal caste, or Aun, hold the positionof ruling caste in Tau society, though what causes the other castes' unquestioning loyalty to them remains unknown.

DESIGN NOTES

Tau Drones: The effect of Drones is built into the shooting values and armour values of Tau units, rather than being listed separately. For example, the effect of Gun Drones is built into the firepower for the pulseweapons used by Tau infantry, and the presence of Shield Drones accounts for the higher than average armour values of Tau infantry and Tau battlesuits.

Tau Miniatures: The Epic Tau miniature range will not be available until the Tau rules are published. Until then, playtesters will need to either use stand-in scratch-built models, or use the excellent Epic scale Tau models produced by Forge World. You can find out more about the Forge World range at their website at www.forgeworld.com

Basing Tau Units: Crisis and Broadside Battlesuits, Heavy Drones and Krootox should be mounted 2-4 to a base. Firewarriors, Pathfinders, Stealth, Gun Drones, Kroot, Kroot Hounds, Kroot Master Shapers, Gue'vesa and Gue'vesa'ui Commanders are based like regular infantry. All other units are based individually. Feel free to add a Drone to infantry stands, light vehicle bases and armoured vehicle bases, as I have incorporated the deensive benefits of drones into Tau unit's saving throws.

TAU SPECIAL RULES

COORDINATED FIRE

The Tau are masters of ranged warfare and have several very experienced fighters and specially equipped troops that are able to lead other Tau on an attack, expertly directing their fire against the foe; thus Tau are especially adept at outflanking enemy formations and attacking them from several sides with their deadly coordinated fire.

Some units are noted as having the coordinated fire ability. Those units can order up to two other nearby formations (that are not broken and have not taken an action this turn) to assist them when they take an advance, double or sustained fire action as long as all of the formations have at least one unit within 15cm of the formation containing the unit with the coordinated fire ability. This order for assistance is also known as calling for coordinated fire.

Make a single initiative roll for all formations, counting a single -1 modifier if any have Blast markers. If the test is failed then the formation fails to call for coordinated fire, receives a Blast marker and must take a hold action, but the other formations are unaffected (and may take an action later in the turn).

If the test is passed, then all formations concerned must take either an advance, double or sustained fire action. There is no obligation for all formations to take the same action or the order of which formations are resolved first. Each formation must fire at the same target formation this turn if possible. The formations don't have to stay within a given distance of each other and will complete their actions one after the other. Each formation's individual action must be declared prior to its action commencing. Each formation's action is completely resolved prior to the next formation's action commencing. Each formation follows all the normal shooting rules. (It's possible for the target formation to come under fire and become cross fired 3 separate times as a result of coordinated fire.)

MARKER LIGHTS AND GUIDED MISSILES

Markerlights are devices carried by many types of Tau infantry and vehicles. They allow their user to mark out enemy targets electronically, so that they can easily be targeted and engaged by other friendly units. Seeker, Hunter, and the larger Tracer Missiles are self-guided projectiles that can be fired on targets marked by a markerlight. Their robotic brains allow them to independently find their way to their designated target, avoiding any obstacles in the way. Seeker Missiles are readily available in any Tau army, being mounted on tanks, aircraft and support craft. they have a long range so can be fired over considerable distances once a target is marked. The Tracer Missile is similar, but far larger, and carries much more potent warhead enabling it to inflict crippling damage to even war engines and titans.

All enemy units within 30cm range and LOF of at least one unit with markerlights are considered to be marked. However, Tau units that are broken or have marched that turn cannot use their markerlights. The action the markerlight unit is carrying out does not have any impact on guided missiles (except 'March', as noted above).

Guided missiles must either be guided by a markerlight or be fired unguided. If they are fired unguided, they follow all the normal shooting rules. If a missile is guided by a markerlight, the firing unit does not need a LOF to the target unit and receives a 1 to hit modifier. However, hits may only be allocated to units from the target formation that are marked by a markerlight. Apart from that, all the normal shooting rules apply.

FIELD CRAFT

Kroot are naturally adept in arboreal environments. Their self sufficiency and unparalleled fieldcraft are a major asset to the Tau and a useful contrast to their more technologically dependent masters.

Field Craft will always improve any cover save by +1 but does not confer any bonus if the unit does not receive a cover save.

TAU TECHNOLOGY

TAU JET PACKS

Tau Battlesuits and Drones make use of powerful and sophisticated jump packs. These allow them to pounce on the enemy and strafe them before retreating again out of range of the survivors' retribution. This makes Jet Pack-equipped troops hard to counter and very difficult to engage.

Tau Jet Packs follow all the rules for Jump Packs. Additionally, units with Tau Jet Packs are allowed to fall back from a charging enemy instead of making a counter-charge move. The units may move 10cm in any direction immediately after the enemy formation has declared an engage or air assault action against their formation (note that falling back happens before a charge or air assault move is made, not after charge or air assault moves as with counter-charges).

TAU DRONES

Tau make extensive use of floating disc-shaped robots called Drones. In battle, Drones are programmed to shield their controllers by getting in the way of incoming fire or close combat opponents.

Formations containing Drones plus at least one non-Drone unit halve the number of additional Blast markers they receive because of the destroyed Drone units (rounding fractions down). Additionally, Drones in such formations may be allocated any type of hit (AP and AT). Formations consisting entirely of Drones follow the normal rules.

TAU DEFLECTOR SHIELDS

Tau Deflector Shields do not work like Imperial or Ork shields in that they do not absorb the incoming energy. Instead, they are shaped and positioned in such a way as to deflect the incoming fire. In addition, the shield's intensity will be proportionally more powerful as the energy an attack increases.

The Tau Deflector Shield is an invulnerable save that has no effect against base-to-base combat attacks, but against other attacks the invulnerable save roll will be 4+, 5+ or 6+ instead of only 6+. It's a 6+ vs. weapons that allow both Armor Saves and Reinforced Armor Saves to work normally (e.g. AT shots). It's a 5+ vs. any shots that don't allow both Armour Saves and Reinforced Armour saves but does allow one of them (like Macro-weapon and Lance). Finally, it's 4+ against anything that doesn't allow any armor saves (like Titan Killer).

SUPPORT CRAFT

Lacking large ground-based war engines like titans, the Tau make use of smaller spacecraft for ground support. Unlike the much faster aircraft, they hover menacingly over the battlefield and act as a high-flying weapons platform.

Support craft remain high up in the air. This means they can always draw a LOF to any target and vice versa, just like aircraft. They also never block LOF to other units, including other support craft. They ignore terrain when moving and never count as being in cover, nor can they provide cover for friendly troops, as they are too far away from the ground. They can only deploy troops immediately after they have performed a plaentfall. in an assault, they work exactly like skimmers.
